3. Explore and Expand Joint Preparation of Students for Success in Careers (Attachment B)
4. Role of the SDCCD Faculty and SDUSD Teachers (Attachment B)
5. Open Discussion

Systemic approaches and design principles were used to outline the following action steps approved by consensus of the two Boards as future goals:

- Hold a joint board meeting on an annual basis, beginning with fall 2012, in which updated plans and progress will be discussed.
- Increase the number of middle college high schools by at least one additional
- school.
- Increase

- concurrent enrollment by 10 percent over a five-year period.
- Increase the number of high schools at which community college faculty provide instruction either on-site or via virtual technology, while taking a fresh look at relevant learning models using a holistic view that includes socialization.
- Institute accelerated career programs linked to internships and service learning experiences.
- Work toward coordinating a standardized spring break between the community college district and the school district, as well as San Diego State University.
- Ensure that students, especially those who are disadvantaged, have comparable opportunities (accessibility to programs, inclusiveness, common standards) throughout both districts regardless of geography or socio-economic characteristics.
- Ensure that there are meetings, workshops, and conferences between the districts' faculty and teachers, counselors, and administrators, to ensure student success through early assessment, common academic standards and expectations and appropriately-designed curricula.

C. ADJOURN
