PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE TO STUDENTS:

OCTOBER 2017

Dear Lion Scholars,

We are so proud of your hard work and learning. We also appreciate that most of our Lions come to school EVERYDAY ON TIME! What a way to show responsibility!

Your character is who you are when no one is looking. This month, we will show you many ways to practice self-control. Jonas Salk Lions use self-control by thinking before they act. We work hard to make good choices and model responsible behavior. Practice self-control by treating each other with respect in the classroom and on the playground. Keep your hands, feet, mouth and mind under control. How well do you practice self-control?

Believe in yourself and do your personal best each day!

MESSAGE TO TEACHERS:

Dear Team,

I want to acknowledge the amazing teaching that I have seen on campus. I have seen team teaching, collaboration, and teachers helping and supporting one another. I am so excited about the learning community we are establishing and the work that we are doing. Our children are so lucky to have you as their facilitators of learning.

One of the greatest gifts that we give our children is the ability to be independent. As you look at your classrooms the next couple weeks, reflect on your social environment.

Essential questions are:

- 1) How do we actively engage more students?
 -what structures are in place to monitor learning and engagement?
- 2) Who is doing the thinking/learning/helping work?
 -what structures are in place to eventually lead to independence?

Have a purposeful and positive month!

With much respect for what you do,

♥ Deidre ♥
