How is the Common Core curriculum modified to provide depth, novelty, acceleration, complexity, and remediation (as appropriate) within the Seminar classes?

- Lessons are differentiated to assure the range of learning needs & skill levels are addressed
- A wide variety of learning resources are used
- Students are flexibly grouped throughout the day to maximize learning and engagement
- Small group guided instruction is provided

What modifications and amplifications are being made to the school's existing behavior/discipline plans so that students identified as Seminar develop self-regulation and positive social skills?

We maintain the same behavioral/discipline expectations for all students at Ericson. Students with special behavioral needs have individual plans in place.
