Transition Planning

“Transition planning is an essential step in preparing students with disabilities to assume adult roles. Transition planning should focus on students’ future dreams and goals, empowering them to create a personal vision and identifying opportunities to help them meet their current needs as they transition into high school, postsecondary education, employment, and quality adult life.” (Transition to Adult Living – A Guide for Secondary Education, 2003)

Four Year Plan

The 4 Year Plan is reviewed with students in the 8th grade. Students meet with their counselor in groups to discuss what will be expected of them in high school. Sometimes the conference is part of their English class. Parents are invited and there is also a parent night for those who wish to know what to expect. The main topics discussed in the conference are requirements for graduation from high school. The counselor will review the 2.0 GPA required, courses that will be taken in each year, the Computer Literacy requirement, Senior Exit Exhibition, and passing the California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE). Different options for electives are reviewed, along with any CCTE classes that are offered at their high school. The most effective 4 Year Plan will address and reflect the student’s Person Centered Planning and Transition Plan goals.

Person Centered Planning

Person Centered Planning is the first step in the Transition Planning process. The meeting is designed to be conducted by the student. The emphasis will be placed on the student’s dreams, interests and preferences. This process is used to assist students in the process of making decisions, taking responsibility for those decisions and learning to exert more control over their lives. This planning vehicle is used to create a vision for the future and plan ways for that vision to become reality. Students choose the participants in the planning and can include family, friends, teachers, employers, and others. Each participant can contribute, but no one has the right to plan for the student without the student’s permission or request. The Person Centered Plan would then be integrated into the student’s IEP and TP.

Transition Plan

The Transition Plan is the driving force of the Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Every student, beginning at age 16 or younger (if determined appropriate by the IEP team), by law, is required to have a Transition Plan based on the IDEA (Individuals with Disabilities Education Act) guidelines. The Transition Plan is designed with a results-oriented process that promotes movement from school to post school activities. It is based upon a student’s needs and dreams, taking into account Person Centered Planning as a guideline. Since the Transition Plan is student focused, it is imperative that every student plan on attending and participating in their Transition Plan/IEP meeting.
Career Exploration and Preparation

Career exploration can help a student learn more about the world of work and careers. This can be pursued in a number of different ways. Some of the many methods may include: interviewing people working in career areas of the student’s interest, interest inventories, career planning tools, job shadows, and various worksheets. Web based programs such as Naviance and Career Cruising are available to our students as tools to explore career areas of interest and aid with transition planning.

Transition Skills Class  (Course Codes: 7364, 7365)
The Transition Skills class is designed to prepare students with an IEP for life after high school. Students may have the opportunity to learn about self-advocacy, self-determination career exploration, job readiness, employer expectations, and healthy lifestyles such as fitness and nutrition, and communication skills. All sections will be based on a person centered planning model and may be project based. Projects will help students acquire the skills consistent with current market place employer needs.

Interest Inventories
Interest inventories are utilized to identify the career clusters of greatest interest to each student. The information obtained from the inventory can then be utilized to enable the student to begin the process of exploring careers related to these interests. There are a variety of interest inventories available district-wide for students of all reading levels. The Career Cruising assessment called Matchmaker, which is available on-line, is a very user friendly program. This assessment can be found at careercruising.com. All high schools have Naviance. Other interest inventories may include: Coin, Career Targets Interest Inventory, the Career Exploration Inventory (CEI), the COPS Picture Inventory of Careers, and the Becker Reading-Free Vocational Interest Inventory.

Job Shadow
Job shadow is a school and community experience that provides both student and educators an opportunity to spend quality time observing business professionals. The goal for the students is to explore career areas of interest before committing to further training, education and/or a work-based learning experience. The job shadow provides students with a realistic view of business day-to-day operations.

Informational Interview
What if you are not sure about your career goal? One of the best ways to find out what a career is really like is to talk with people working in the career you are considering. An informational interview is a meeting between the student and a professional. The purpose is to help define career options or research a company where you want to work. Students are encouraged to conduct a variety of face to face informational interviews throughout their time in high school to help them focus on a field of study to pursue.
Resume Preparation

Well written resumes are an important component of career preparation. Students should bring resumes to job interviews and job fairs. Many high schools require students to submit a resume as part of their Senior Portfolio. The 11th grade is a good time to begin the resume preparation process. The resume will also be a topic covered in Transition Skills classes offered at most SDUSD high schools.

For an online resume form, see careercruising.com. The Career Cruising Resume Builder, under the portfolio section, makes it easy for users to create great looking resumes that showcase: career objectives, education, work experience, skills and abilities, extracurricular activities, and any awards and certificates they have received.

You can access it by logging into your portfolio and then clicking on the Resume Builder tab above the blue buttons on the left. To use the portfolio, click on the navigation button at the top of the screen marked “Portfolio”.

The resume building component moves forward from the portfolio and lets you enter detailed information in any or all of eight criteria. The tool lets you choose which features you want to include on the final draft of your resume as well as select one of three styles of resume. The resumes can either be printed straight from Career Cruising or exported to Word.

Work Documentation and Identification

In order for students to be hired for a job or participate in a paid work program through school, they will need to have some required documentation. Every student needs to have a social security and photo identification card (School ID, California ID or Military ID). If the student was born outside of the United States, they will also be required to have a resident card.

Social Security Card

If students do not have a social security card, one can be obtained from the social security office at no cost. The form to request a card is form SS-5. Regardless of the age of the student, if he is mentally capable, the student may sign the application for the social security card.

To apply for a replacement card, students must prove their identity. (School ID cards are acceptable). Students born outside of the U.S. must also prove their U.S. citizenship or lawful immigration status. No other documentation is required for a replacement card.

In order to obtain a new card, the social security office requires evidence of age, identity and citizenship. For evidence of age, the office prefers a birth certificate, but it may accept religious records or hospital birth records. For evidence of identity, they cannot accept birth certificates or birth records. They will accept doctor, clinic or non-birth hospital records. These records must show the name that you wish to have printed on your card. For evidence of citizenship, birth certificates or hospital birth records are allowed.

If the parent intends to sign the application on behalf of the student, the parent needs to provide their own identification. This may include a U.S. passport, driver’s license, or employee ID card. If the child is 1 year of age or older, all documents will be verified before a social security card will be issued. If the student is 12 years of age or older, they must appear in person at the social security office for an interview.

All documents must be originals or copies certified by the issuing agency.

Social Security

Description of Services: Social Security Benefits:

- SSI provides a minimum of financial security and health insurance to people who have a disability and a very low income.
- Work incentives allow SSI recipients the chance to earn or save money while continuing to receive benefits and Medi-Cal.
- Using Work Incentives allows young recipients increased opportunities for personal growth, social acceptance and independence.

Who is eligible for SSI?

People who have a disability and a low income are eligible for SSI. At age 18, a student qualifies based on their own financial resources. Their parents’ income will no longer disqualify them.

A young person with a disability may also qualify for Social Security benefits if a parent has died, retired or receives disability benefits.

What are some Work Incentives?

Student Earned Income Exclusion: Students under age 22 may earn up to $1,700 per month (maximum of $6,840 per year) without having their benefits reduced at all.

2 For 1: The first $85 earned does not reduce SSI benefits. For every subsequent $2 earned, benefits are reduced by $1. Medi-Cal continues with only $1 from SSI.

PASS Plan: A Plan for Achieving Self Support (PASS) may allow an SSI recipient to save earnings or other money to further a vocational goal without reducing SSI.

The Medi-Cal Working Disabled Program: Even when an SSI recipient earns enough salary (about $35,000 a year) that they no longer receive Medi-Cal for free, they may be able to purchase it at a low premium.

4. Learn about work incentives online at www.ssa.gov; at DB101.org; by reviewing Social Security’s Red Book, or by making an appointment with a Community Work Incentives Coordinator (CWIC).

The San Diego Housing Commission is an award-winning public agency that helps low-income families, seniors and people with disabilities afford housing in the high-cost city of San Diego.

It helps more than 12,000 families with rental assistance (Section 8) and almost 1,800 with publicly owned apartments (public housing). In addition, agency programs have enabled 4,000 families to buy their first homes and over 9,000 to rehabilitate their older homes. Working with nonprofit and for-profit developers, the San Diego Housing Commission has also helped create more than 23,000 apartments in San Diego, including over 10,000 with affordable rents.

Housing Choice (Section 8) Vouchers Program

Housing choice vouchers allow very low-income families to choose and lease or purchase safe, decent, and affordable privately-owned rental housing.

Vouchers for People with Disabilities

Below are three special types of vouchers available to people with disabilities:

Mainstream vouchers

Elderly and non-elderly families that have a person with disabilities.

Designated housing vouchers

Non-elderly families, who would be eligible for public housing if occupancy were not restricted to elderly households. These vouchers also assist families affected by a PHA decision to designate their buildings as "mixed elderly and disabled buildings" but demonstrate a need for alternative resources for families with a disabled person.

Certain development vouchers

Non-elderly families with a disabled person, who does not currently receive housing assistance in certain developments where owners establish preferences for, or restrict occupancy to, elderly families.

Project Access vouchers

As part of a demonstration program between HUD and HHS, 400 vouchers were awarded in Fiscal Year 2001 to 11 lead PHAs to partner with Medicaid agencies in providing housing assistance to non-elderly disabled persons transitioning from nursing homes into the community.

Fact Sheet for Youth and Young Adults with Disabilities Interested in Starting a Career with the Federal Government
The Schedule A hiring authority is one of the paths that can greatly benefit youth and young adults with disabilities who have an interest in a career with the Federal government. It can also be a fast track way for Federal agencies to bring in talented individuals with disabilities. This fact sheet provides tips on understanding and utilizing Schedule A. Schedule A is a hiring authority for Federal agencies to use to tap into a diverse and vibrant talent pool without going through the often-lengthy traditional hiring process. Schedule A allows individuals to apply for a Federal appointment through a noncompetitive hiring process. This means that if you meet the eligibility status of the appointment and the minimum qualifications for a position, you may be hired for the position without competing with the general public. Schedule A can be used to hire people in all professions from clerical staff to attorneys.

Mission of WorkAbility 1 (WA1)

The mission of WAI is to promote the involvement of key stakeholders including students, families, educators, employers, and other agencies in the planning and implementing of an array of services that will assist in successful student transition to employment, lifelong learning and quality of life.

To participate in any paid program, students are required to have a current picture ID and a social security card. Students that require a resident alien card to work must also bring the card in with the other work documentation.

Transition Skills Class (Course Codes: 7364, 7365)
The Transition Skills class is designed to prepare students with an IEP for life after high school. Students may have the opportunity to learn about self-advocacy, self-determination career exploration, job readiness, employer expectations, and healthy lifestyles such as fitness and nutrition, and communications skills. All sections will be based on a person centered planning model and may be project based. Projects will help students acquire the skills consistent with current market place employer needs.
Work programs

Work Incentive (On campus Work Experience)
Course Codes: 7368 (1 hour) 7367 (2 hours)

Work Incentive is an on-campus work experience program for students with an IEP, 14 years of age and older. This is typically the first work experience for many students. Students are given the opportunity to learn basic job and social skills that will help them prepare for a community-based job. At the conclusion of the class, students will earn 1 or 2 elective credits plus will be eligible for a professional reference for their resume. This course is included as part of the student’s school schedule. In addition, students can earn a training stipend if proper work documentation is available and the necessary paperwork is submitted for processing. Typically, a student’s stipend pay is for about 60-80 hours. Case Manager and parent approval is required for participation.

Workability (WA I Funded) off Campus with employer
Course Codes: 7561 (1 hour) 7562 (2 hours)

Students with an IEP 16 years of age and older are eligible to participate in a community work program. To enter this program, students are required to possess a valid social security card and a current picture ID. After parent permission is received, students are encouraged to search the community and identify jobs that they would be interested in acquiring. Pending job site approval, students will then participate in short term work experience that may result in permanent full or part time employment. A student must work a minimum of 60 hours per semester to receive a Practical Arts credit. During the work experience, students will be paid current minimum wage through the grant (pending funding availability). Work hours are available during school, after school or on weekends.

Transition Partnership Program
Course Codes: 7366, 7369 (SAP or WA credits may be available)

The Transition Partnership Program (TPP) engages the CA State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation with San Diego Unified School District and local business. The focus is to help a select number of students with an IEP in their senior year who want to go straight to work after high school. Students typically work part time while continuing the education. Students will get assistance with job readiness skills, and may receive support for work supplies, clothing, uniforms, transportation, and job training.

Summer Jobs
Summer jobs are encouraged and may be offered pending the availability of funding.

AmeriCorps: National Civilian Community Corps

About AmeriCorps*NCCC

The mission of AmeriCorps*NCCC is to strengthen communities and develop leaders through national and community service. Since 1994, more than 10,000 men and women have served over 15 million hours providing disaster relief, tutoring children, building homes for low-income families, helping preserve the environment, and helping communities meet their challenges. AmeriCorps*NCCC supports faith-based and other community-based organizations, national nonprofits, schools, local municipalities, national and state parks, and Indian tribes.

AmeriCorps*NCCC requires an intense, ten-month, full-time commitment by young people aged 18-24 year-olds. The program is residential, team-based and modeled after the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s and the U.S. military. Members serve in teams of 10-12 individuals and are assigned to projects throughout the region served by their campus. They are trained in CPR, first aid and mass care before deploying for their first service project. In addition some members are also certified in chainsaw operation and wild land firefighting. During their service, members receive lodging, meals, uniforms, health benefits, student-loan forbearance, and a living allowance of about $4,000. Upon successful completion of their term, members receive an education award of $5,500 to help pay for college or graduate school, or to pay back qualified student loans.

Four-Year Colleges: Four year colleges and universities offer lower and upper division courses that lead to a bachelor's degree or advanced degrees in a variety of fields. Two-Year Colleges: Two-year or community colleges offer lower division courses that lead to an associate's degree and/or certificates that prepare students for entry-level employment or transfer to four-year colleges and universities. There are nine community colleges located within San Diego. They are:

Technical/Trade Schools: Technical schools and trade schools are specialized institutions that provide training for a specific field or job (e.g., computer programmer, building contractor or cosmetologist). Training may last from a few weeks to one or more years depending on the specific occupation. Upon completion of the training program, students generally receive a certificate or license. There are over 200 technical and trade schools in San Diego County. Since these schools are private, their tuition may vary widely. For a complete listing with specifics, go online and do a search for “Trade Schools in San Diego”.

Apprenticeship Training: Apprenticeship is a system of “learning while earning” and “learning by doing”. Typically, a young person works with a skilled worker, gaining on-the-job skills and “know-how” and, in turn, becomes an important part of an occupation or industry. Because these programs are joint training programs with community colleges, students can earn an associate’s degree while also learning a trade. Apprenticeship combines training on the job with related and supplemental instruction at school. Website: abcsd.org

Continuing Education: (San Diego Community Colleges) Approximately 100,000 San Diegans take Continuing Education Courses. These are short-term classes on a variety of training opportunities for occupations. The classes are non-credit and free to adults. These classes can be taken at ten locations. Website: sdce.edu

Adult Education: (San Diego Community Colleges) These are occupational specific classes offered on Community College campuses. The major differences from Continuing Education are that these are college credit courses and there is a fee.

College Career and Technical Education (CCTE): CCTC courses are available to high school juniors and seniors as part of the Office of College, Career and Technical Education program and are open to out-of-school youth and adults. These courses provide free training that develops job skills and/or prepares students for the next level of education.

The Military: Branches of the United States Armed Forces offer a wide range of occupational training programs. Most of the military services require a high school diploma or higher post-high school attainment. The major branches of the military are:

- U.S. Army
- U.S. Navy
- U.S. Coast Guard
- U.S. Air Force
- U.S. Marine Corps

Website: dod.gov

Work Force Immediately: Some students choose to go directly into the job market after high school. These jobs are usually entry-level positions in the $8.00-$15.00 range. One resource that individuals can use is the California State Employment Development Department. The services offered are: job counseling, job referrals, and interests and value assessments through their One-Stop Career Center. To access the job listings, contact caljobs.ca.gov.
